

Impact Investing – Analyst Intern

6 months starting August 2023, Brussels

Fluency in French is mandatory

Who we are

Telos Impact is a Brussels & Paris-based advisory firm in Impact Investing and Philanthropy. Established in 2015, Telos has helped its clients deploy more than €150 million to high impact solutions and entrepreneurs. Since 2018, Telos' impact investing team conducts venture capital investments in companies that solve some of the most crucial environmental issues.

What you will do

You will support the team around:

- Venture Capital: building a pan-European portfolio of direct investments (mostly at scale-up stage), focused on the following themes: sustainable food, circularity and water
- Building a portfolio of fund investments (our fund of fund vehicle), targeting best-in-class climate funds in Europe with different strategies in various geographies

Key responsibilities will include:

- Sourcing & screening investment opportunities, both Venture Capital and funds
- Analyzing investment opportunities (impact, business, market, financial & industry analyses)
- Knowledge building on our focus sectors through desktop research and meetings with experts

The role should involve a fair amount of direct exposure to inspiring entrepreneurs and experienced investment professionals.

What we offer

- Impact, contributing to the success of a mission-driven company at a crucial stage of its development
- Learning, high exposure to the fascinating impact Venture Capital industry, with on-the-job coaching
- Fun, dynamic and innovative working environment, driven by a caring team
- Compensation and full coverage of expenses

Who we are looking for

- Recently graduated master's degree or gap year student, with excellent academics
- Demonstrated interest in environmental topics
- A first meaningful professional experience
- Good understanding of corporate finance, strategy, investments
- Self-starter and independent thinker with strong problem solving, analytical & synthetical skills
- Strong oral, written communication skills and strong interpersonal skills
- Other skills that would be a plus: financial modelling, knowledge on our impact themes and on impact measurement methodologies
