Telos Impact

Telos Impact is a leading Brussels and Paris based Venture Philanthropy and Impact Investing advisory firm. We want to maximize the impact of our clients (entrepreneurs, families, or companies) through a tailor-made approach, the excellence of our team and a unique network. Our goal is to deploy EUR 1 billion in impact capital by 2030, and we have already deployed EUR 200 million so far. We aim to put Philanthropy and Impact Investing on the map – and make it mainstream. Venture philanthropy applies most of the same principles of venture capital funding - it supports innovative/growing/scaling non-for-profit projects in their journey towards impact and systemic change. Support takes the form of donations but also through expertise and coaching.

As a growing company, we are looking for top talent to join our Venture Philanthropy team.

WHAT YOU WILL DO

As Venture Philanthropy Senior Advisor, you will:

- Create privileged contact with the various Belgian clients, establish a relationship of trust with them, support them in their desire for impact and or systemic change.
- Be a support for our business development in Flanders.
- Oversee several clients, in close collaboration with associates and with the strategic and technical support from the broader Telos impact Team.
- Coach and support younger teams to help them develop their efficiency and potential.
- Play a key role in ensuring the values, and the culture of Telos Impact, are lived by daily.

Your support to the team will contribute to delivering the full spectrum of Telos Impact's philanthropy activities, involving supporting team members in:

- Defining an impact strategy: help clients to develop an ambitious and realistic impact goal, translate the goal into a concrete strategy and roadmap, based on a thorough analysis of the impact domain (e.g., education, employment, poverty, and social exclusion) and international best practices.
- Sourcing and screening non-for-profit projects within the scope of impact of the clients: develop a strategic overview of the sector and a deal-flow of investable projects; manage due diligences of potential investments, background checks, research on the field, ...
- Following up closely with the supported non-profits to ensure the impact delivery: establish partnership agreements with clear impact targets; accompany the beneficiary in its impact delivery; monitor the progress and report back to the client, ...

You will, furthermore, develop an expertise by participating to events & conferences, build an expert network, and get adequate upskilling. As a member of the Telos Impact team, you will also contribute to managing and growing client relationships, promote Telos Impact in the social impact eco-system, build out our partner & advisor network, etc. Working in a growing business environment, your list of responsibilities could be endless and will be in large part up to you.
